

Drive and Stop Routes

Limantour Road 1 - easy and likely productive.

Directions

From Bear Valley Visitor Center drive back out and turn left onto Bear Valley Rd. Turn left at Limantour Road (the first road). Drive along Limantour Road and stop any at sites that catch your fancy. Concentrate your efforts in the area between the beginning of the road and the Bay View Trail head parking lot, which is near the top of the ridge just before you start to descend toward the ocean. In the more open sunny areas be aware of poison oak, especially at and after Sky Trailhead!

Zones to mark on your collections

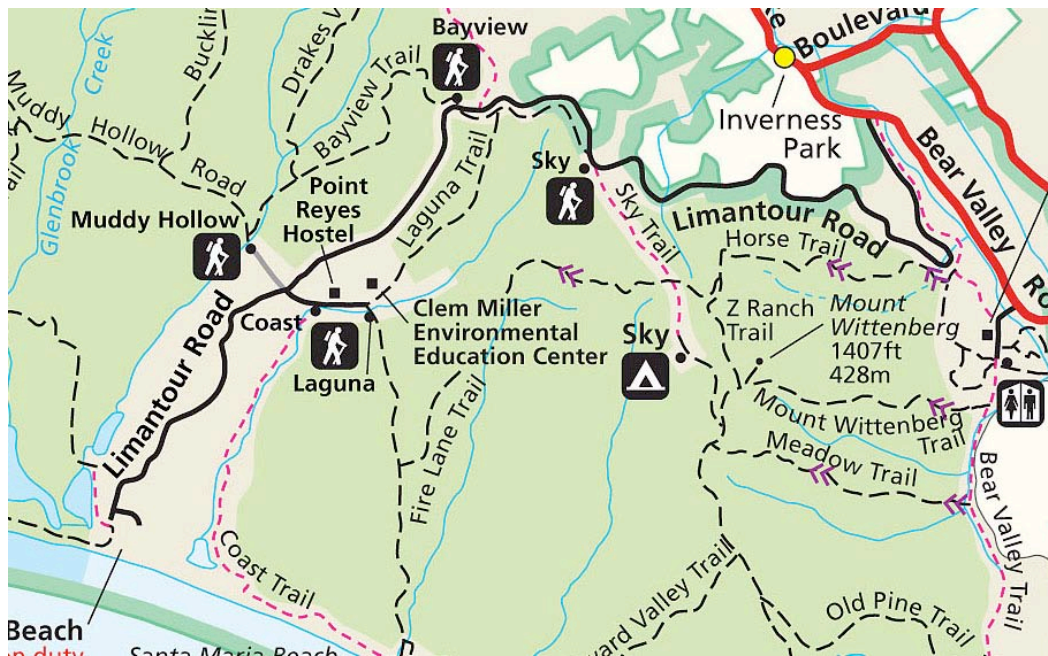

LIM-1 Meadow and Oak woodland near the beginning of the road.

LIM-2 Young second growth Douglas Fir Forest before Sky Trail head parking lot

LIM-3 From Sky trail head to Bay View Trail head

LIM-4 from Bay View Trail head to the junction of Muddy Hollow/ Hostel Road

LIM-5 from the junction of Muddy Hollow/ Hostel Road to Limantour Beach parking lot.

Limantour Road 2 - easy and likely productive in the young pine areas.

Directions

From Bear Valley Visitor Center drive back out and turn left onto Bear Valley Rd. Turn left at Limantour Road (the first road). Drive along Limantour Road until you reach the Bay View Trail head. Start there and continue toward the beach, stop at any sites that catch your fancy. In the more open sunny areas be aware of poison oak, especially at and after Sky Trailhead!

Zones to mark on your collections

LIM-4 from Bay View Trail Head to Junction of Muddy Hollow/ Hostel Road

LIM-5 from Junction of Muddy Hollow/ Hostel Road to Limantour Beach Parking lot.

Limantour Beach - Dune and grassland area. These areas can be rich in several genera of saprobes.

Directions

From Bear Valley Visitor Center drive back out and turn left onto Bear Valley Rd. Turn left at Limantour Road (the first road) and follow the road all the way to the beach. Park at the main lot. Walk to the beach and collect in and around grass and shrubs just behind the dunes. Then get back in your car head back up Limantour Rd. and take the first right toward the other parking lot on the east end of the beach. Again walk toward the beach and collect in the grasslands and shrubs just behind the dunes. You can also try in the shrub/grasslands before the parking lot. There is a recent prescribed burn that could be interesting.

Zones to mark on your collections

LIMB-1 dunes west of main parking lot (there is a trail in these and its easier to walk)

LIMB-2 dunes east of main parking lot

LIM-5B Recently Burned area on the way to the second parking lot

LIMB-3 dunes near second parking lot

Mt Vision Road- mature Bishop pine forest and coastal scrub. This route gives beautiful views and excellent habitat.

Directions

From Bear Valley Visitor Center drive back out and turn left onto Bear Valley Rd. Drive north until the road dead ends into the Sir Francis Drake and turn left. Continue past Inverness Park and Inverness. When the road forks about 1.5 miles past Inverness stay on the main road to the left. Less than a mile after this fork turn left onto the narrow paved road marked Mt. Vision. Stop and collect along this road anywhere that it looks interesting and is safe to pull off. The lower parts of the road are mostly scrub community with isolated pockets of pine. Further up this becomes a continuous mature pine forest, and near the end it becomes a young (post-fire) pine forest and scrub. All of these pine areas can be incredibly productive. Be careful of poison oak throughout, but especially on the lower parts of the road or anywhere with lots of other shrubs.

Zones to mark on your collections

MtVB – bottom part of Mt. Vision Road before the pine forest become fairly continuous

MtVM – middle area of Mt Vision Road where the mature Pine forest becomes continuous.

MtVT – top of Mt. Vision Road where the pine forest is young.

Easy hikes

Bear Valley Trail 1 - A flat wide, easy road-like trail. Mostly through lower elevation mixed woods and grassy meadows.

Directions

From the Bear Valley visitor's center walk south along the wide dirt road marked as Bear Valley trail, collected in areas along trail walk as much or as little and then return by the same route.

Zones to mark on your collection labels

Estero Trail area – Drive with short walk; mature Monterey pine forest and coastal scrub

Directions

From Bear Valley Visitor Center drive back out and turn left onto Bear Valley Rd. Drive north until the road dead ends into the Sir Francis Drake and turn left. Continue past Inverness Park and Inverness. When the road forks about 1.5 miles past Inverness stay on the main road to the left. Drive past the Mt. Vision road, and less than one mile later turn left at the sign marking the Estero Trailhead. Park in the lot and start on the trail collecting in the grasslands/scrub community and in the pine forest that is about 1/2 mile or so down the trail. Be careful of poison oak especially in the first section of pine forest (there is less further in); this forest can be excellent collecting. Past the forest the trail crosses a bridge and becomes rather muddy, but includes some farm and scrub areas (this area is not high priority, but if you go there, go ahead and collect).

Zones to mark on your collections

EsteroM – Estero trail meadow/scrub area between trailhead and forest

EsteroF – Estero trail planted forest

Tomales Pt. – The trail is broad, fairly flat and easy for the first mile. Dune, scrub, grassland areas; lots of Elk! Usually rich in Agaricus, puffballs, and various other saprobes. The scenery can be stunning and there is little or no poison oak, but the wind can be brutal.

Directions:

From Bear Valley Visitor Center drive back out and turn left onto Bear Valley Rd. Drive north until the road dead ends into the Sir Francis Drake and turn left. Continue past Inverness Park and Inverness. When the road forks about 1.5 miles past Inverness take the right on Pierce Point Rd and head north to Tomales Pt. Drive to the end of the road, park at Pierce Ranch (just before McClure Beach) and take the Tomales Pt. Trail. It is easy to go off trail in this area and search the grasslands.

Zones to mark

TomPt1 – first part of Tomales bay trail up to Windy Gap (the first big drop in elevation).

TomPt 2 – trail after Windy Gap.

KEHOE – if you stop and collect along Kehoe beach trail

ABBOT – if you stop and collect along the Abbots lagoon trail

South Olema Trail - mixed Oak/Bay woodlands with Douglas-fir

Directions: From Bear Valley Visitor Center drive back out and turn right onto Bear Valley Rd then turn right again on HWY 1. Drive about 6.2 miles, and park at the small pull-off for the Olema and Randall trails. Take the Olema Trail and at the trail junction (0.5 miles) continue on the Olema Trail north toward the Bolema Trail (the more wooded direction), or south into the meadows. Return by the same route.

Horse Trail to Mt. Wittenberg a steady uphill along a wide trail through mixed oak Douglas-fir forest

Directions

Mark your collections HORSE

Upper Bay View & Laguna Trail – young post-fire pine forest and northern coastal scrub

Directions: From Bear Valley Visitor Center drive back out and turn left onto Bear Valley Rd. Turn left at Limantour Road (the first road). Drive along Limantour Road as you crest the hill and start going down to the ocean you'll see huge numbers of young pine. The first turn-off to the right is the Bay View Trailhead; pull in and park. You can walk down the Bay View trail or cross Limantour Rd and walk along the Bay View Trail to the Laguna Trail (0.5) miles. Both trails eventually drop into coastal scrub, but have young pine and some Douglas-fir in the first half mile or so. Walk as far as you choose, but remember that you have to walk back up. If you have a two car group you could drop one car at Muddy Hollow or the Laguna trailhead and do a one way downhill walk (about 2 miles). Watch for poison oak.

Zones to mark on your collections

BAY-1- Upper Bay View Trail in the pine forest

BAY-2 – Bay View Trail across the road from parking lot

BAY-3 – Lower Bayview Trail from end of pine forest to Muddy Hollow

LAGUNA-1 – first half of Laguna trail from Bay View to Hostel Road

Lower Bay View Trail/Muddy Hollow – Cypress grove, Alder and willow along creek, coast scrub.

Directions From Bear Valley Visitor Center drive back out and turn left onto Bear Valley Rd. Turn left at Limantour Road (the first road). Drive along Limantour Road until you reach the Muddy Hollow turn off and then turn right into it. Park when the road ends, and walk across Muddy Hollow Creek (this can be tricky if the water is high), and at the trail junction head up the Bay View Trail. The Cypress grove and the creek side vegetation has some unique fungi. Further up the trail you will encounter mostly northern coastal scrub and isolated pine. Watch for poison oak in this area. Walk up as far as you wish.

Zones to mark on your collections

MUD – muddy hollow area with creek vegetation and Cypress

BAY-3 – lower Bay View and Drakes View trail until you reach fairly continuous pine forest

BAY-1 - Upper Bay View Trail in the pine forest

DRAKE – Upper Drake View Trail in the pine forest

Lower Laguna trail – Coastal scrub with pockets of young Douglas-fir and Pine; deer and Elk likely.

Zones to mark on your collections

LAGUNA-2 – Laguna Trail up to junction with the Fire Lane Trail

LAGUNA-3 – Laguna trail from junction to beach

Five Brooks Area – A long uphill trail through Douglas fir forest; some pine occurs near the ridge top. Great habitat!

Directions

From Bear Valley Visitor Center drive back out and turn right onto Bear Valley Rd then turn right again on HWY 1. Drive about 3.7 miles, just pass Stewart’s Horse Ranch and turn into the Five Brooks Trailhead. From the parking lot walk the trail and when you reach the end of the pond turn left onto the Olema Trail. A few hundred yards later, about half way around the pond, the trail turns right away from the lake (if you go straight you end up at the stables). Continue on the Olema Trail for 1.3 miles to the junction of the Bolema trail. Take the Bolema Trail to the Ridge Trail (1.1 miles). Once at the ridge trail either return via the same route or turn right on to the Ridge trail, take it 0.8 miles to the Stewart Trail, and then take the Stewart Trail back to the parking lot (2.7 miles).

Alternatively you can reverse this route going up the Stewart, which is basically a road. This is a more gradual trail with less mud.
